WHAT IS TO BE DONE?

by Pontifex Maximus Matt Hale

A long battle has now, for the time being, ended. The battle for my law license in the state of Illinois has concluded without my obtaining that license. This seeming defeat occurred without fault by any of us but instead occurred through the combined machinations of our adversaries desperate to stop a ray of light from shining in "their" courtrooms. It is a badge of honor and a sign of the righteousness of our ideals that they fought so hard to stop me from getting that license.

This has been a battle that has been at the forefront of many of our minds this past year and a half, and with good reason. It was the denial of my license that brought our Church and I to the international stage, and furthermore, there has never been a doubt just how important a law license for our Cause is as witnessed by the actions of our adversaries in that regard. While a few Creators have at times asked me why I sought my law license so tenaciously--why I wanted so much to be in courtrooms so rigged against our interests, the answer has always been simple: law is power, and if the White Racial Loyalist Cause is represented in law, it will have more power than it otherwise would have. Also, by having a law license, I would receive, rightly or wrongly, prestige in the eyes of our people.

Now, however, it is time to ask and answer what is to be done now. Where do we go from here? The answer is to be found in our Holy Books as well as these lines. Our Holy Books have always made clear what is to be done: promote the "hell" out of Creativity everywhere, and secondly, it is now time to explore the option of trying to obtain a law license in another state. Since there is this other option, the struggle for a law license is not over! There are still forty-nine other states in which I can seek a law license, and while certainly the racial makeup of some of them would make them a last resort at best, there are still many good possibilities regardless. So, while the Jew vermin in Illinois gloat over their apparent victory over us, their racial cohorts in other states are already concerned that another state may either grant me my law license without fanfare or that I may attain it after the smoke clears. On another note important for our purposes, it will not be necessary to relocate to another state while any new battle along these lines occurs--I can seek a law license in several states simultaneously while remaining in Illinois until one or more of the states grant my request.

If I do attain a law license in another state, this will indeed necessitate that I (and hence World Headquarters) relocate to that state. Once again, however, this will not prove to be much of a difficulty as World Headquarters has never been a building but a cell of Creators and Church materials. As such, it can move quite easily, and furthermore, the East Peoria address will always remain operational. By being organized in such a way, we have the flexibility necessary to meet the challenges issued by our adversaries head on.

It is important, and indeed vital, that each Creator form his or her own cell and become as self-sufficient as possible due to the increasingly heavy-handed tactics of this Jewish Occupational Government. Write World Headquarters for a standard "information packet" which you can make copies of. Obtain copies of video and audio tapes, make further copies of them, and distribute to fellow Creators and potential Creators. Establish hotline phone numbers. Print your own T-shirts, calling cards, stickers, and everything else that is available from World Headquarters (including books if possible). Raise funds for your own cell. I want the activities of every Creator cell to make as much news (spreading the word of Creativity) as is made here at Headquarters! While this may at first glance seem to be impossible, it doesn't have to be if you, my Brothers and Sisters, have the will!

As with the classical White Romans whom we rightly admire, we Creators have never admitted defeat and never will, for we know that there is always another path to travel and that as we do so, we will grow stronger and our adversaries wearier, with each step. We know further that as we travel another path, we will sprinkle many more seeds of our people's resurrection along the way. RAHOWA!

PM Hale Goes on Talk Radio Shows

While it may seem like "old hat" now, PM Hale was a guest on several talk radio stations following the refusal of the Jew S. Supreme Court to hear his law license case. In every instance, the host agreed with PM Hale that he should have been granted his license, and the hosts were in fact hard-pressed to find someone who believed otherwise.

The Church now has available "The Tim & Neil Show", "The Michael Medved Show", and "The George Noory Show" and hopes to have more of the shows that PM Hale has been on recently available in the near future. These shows are available for $5 each. RAHOWA!

PM Hale's Interview on Dateline to Air July 28!

As indicated in last month's issue of The Struggle, PM Hale was set to do another interview with Dateline NBC (his first was in February of last year). This interview indeed transpired on June 29 and occurred in Chicago, Illinois; Mr. "The Greatest Generation" Tom Brokaw was the interviewer.

The interview is set to air on Friday July 28. While many if not most Creators will not receive this issue of The Struggle before the program airs, World Headquarters can certainly provide a tape of the program to each Brother and Sister for a donation of $5 or whatever can be spared. An announcement did go out to the Creativity email list several days ago (subscribe to this list by going to www.creator.org).

The association with the Dateline NBC crew before, during, and after the interview left a lot of diplomacy to be desired. The crew was arrogant and seemed to take the attitude that they were calling all of the shots. For example, while the interview was supposed to be held at a particular hotel in Chicago and PM Hale and Brother Tony had already arrived there, the Dateline crew suddenly moved the location to another hotel across town and had the gall to insist that Brother Tony be left behind! This, of course, PM Hale refused to do, and only when he informed the Dateline crew that either Brother Tony was "allowed" to come with him or he would be heading back to East Peoria, did they relent.

Tom Brokaw, who calls the men who killed and maimed our German blood brothers in the Great Fratricidal War (WWII) "heroes" (to the glee of International Jewry), made quite clear his opposition to our Great Cause and tried desperately to prevail in his questioning of PM Hale. However, PM Hale has reported that the interview went exceptionally well and that by the end of it, Brokaw was visibly disappointed that his efforts to undermine the Church and PM Hale had failed.

PM Hale Fights to Represent the Church in Trademark Case!

As discussed in previous issues of The Struggle, our Church is facing a lawsuit from a bogus "Church of the Creator" group out of Oregon claiming that we have "infringed" on their trademark. While one defense (of many) that our beloved Church has is that we had the name "Church of the Creator" nine years before this Christ-Insanity church was even founded, the immediate issue at hand is whether or not PM Hale can represent the Church in court thereby avoiding exorbitant lawyer fees in a complicated case that will likely drag out for years. In this regard, PM Hale appeared in Federal court in the Northern District of Illinois on July 11 to argue that he should indeed be allowed to represent the Church as well as to oppose the Plaintiff's attempt to get a "default judgment" against the Church for "failing" to answer the complaint against it. After all, PM Hale is an attorney, even if he does possess a "license" from the state, and secondly, he did file a response to the complaint within the allotted time.

The first great news is that Judge Plunkett refused to give a default judgment to the Plaintiff. Secondly, Judge Plunkett informed PM Hale and the counsel for the bogus COTC (a Jew named James Amend) that he will either indeed allow PM Hale to represent the Church or will appoint an attorney for the Church for free! Either way, therefore, the Church will be spared thousands and thousands of dollars in legal fees--money that will be far better spent spreading the Holy message of Creativity! The next court date is August 22. A decision as to which option Judge Plunkett will choose is expected at that time.

On another note, it has been confirmed that while the name of Morris "the Sleaze" Dees and individuals of the Southern Poverty Law Center (Klanwatch) are not on the complaint against the Church, Dees and the SPLC are supporting the bogus Plaintiff. As evidence of this, a back issue of The Struggle file-marked "Klanwatch" was submitted by the Plaintiff's attorneys as part of their "Motion for Default Judgment" which PM succeeded in getting thrown out. It's crystal clear now what this suit is all about, and it certainly isn't about a "trademark infringement".

Lastly, PM Hale has filed a motion to dismiss the case for improper venue as well as a lengthy and legally-substantiated brief explaining why the case does not belong in the Federal court for the Northern District of Illinois (Chicago), but instead belongs in the Central District (Peoria). A ruling on this is also expected on August 22. RAHOWA!

PM Hale Crashes "Anti-Hate" Meeting!

While still at the courthouse following the hearing on the trademark suit, PM Hale was asked by the Jews media whether he was planning on attending the meeting against "hate crimes" to be held an hour later. Though he hadn't known about this meeting before the reporters queried him about it, PM Hale informed them that yes indeed, he would be attending and did in fact attend with Brother Tony. Many governmental officials, including state representatives, were in attendance. A nigger who chaired the meeting attacked the Church and PM Hale several times during his opening remarks and for this reason among others, PM Hale decided to approach the podium and speak! His speech was several minutes long and proclaimed to the officials and the audience of a couple hundred people or more that no amount of laws would stop the onward march of the World Church of the Creator and that no matter what persecution they have in store for we Creators, it will only serve to strengthen our determination to prevail. The anti-White forces at the meeting were completely surprised and outclassed by PM Hale's speech! More importantly, a number of White people in the audience were visibly happy to see PM Hale there in attendance doing what he does best: speaking for our people! RAHOWA!

Get Your Copies of "The Matt Hale Show"!

PM Hale has thus far produced five episodes of "The Matt Hale Show", and these shows are now available! Show #1 was an introduction to the show. Show #2 concerned the law license decision travesty and a memorial to Brother August Smith who died exactly one year before on July 4, 26AC. Show #3 was an interview with Sister Lisa Turner. Show #4 demonstrated why the races are unequal to one another. Show #5 was an interview with pro-White, immigration activist Brother Paul Fromm. Each show is available for $5! RAHOWA!

Judge Declines to Dismiss "Wounded Jew" Case Against Church

On July 13, Cook County Judge Joseph Casciato declined to dismiss the "wounded Jew" case against the Church and PM Hale. This suit was filed last year in the wake of the Brother August Smith shootings.

While this may seem like a defeat at first glance, it actually is not since the judge made clear that unless the Jew Plaintiff produces some real evidence that the Church and PM Hale had any part in the shootings (which obviously, it didn't), he would likely dismiss the case in the future. The only reason why the judge, in fact, did not dismiss the case at this early stage is because the Plaintiff's attorney made claims at the hearing on the matter (held on July 6) that he did not actually make in his complaint. Soon, however, it will either be "put up or shut up" for the Plaintiff and it is quite likely that this silly lawsuit will be dismissed! RAHOWA!

Nigger Plaintiff Who Sued Church Now a Fugitive!

In a hilarious example revealing how pathetic the opposition of the Church really is, the "Reverend" Stephen Anderson (the nigger preacher whose only seeming claim to fame is also being shot by Brother August Smith) is now a fugitive from the law! It seems that he allegedly wrote a number of bad checks and then fled Illinois rather than appear at his court date (see clipping in this month's Struggle). Not only is this amusing, but more importantly, it is quite possible that his lengthy lawsuit (in which he is represented by a dozen attorneys!) will be dismissed at least partially because of his fugitive status since it is well-settled that fugitives from justice are not permitted to simultaneously prosecute civil lawsuits while they remain fugitives. So, it is quite possible that very shortly, both this suit and the "wounded Jew" suit against the Church will be dismissed! RAHOWA!

Appellate Court Affirms Lower Court Ruling Dismissing PM Hale's Suit Against ISU

In an unsurprising move, the Appellate Court for the 4th District in Illinois affirmed on July 27 the lower court decision to dismiss PM Hale's suit against Illinois State University (ISU). As long-time readers of The Struggle will recall, ISU had made an offer for PM Hale to speak before a student group on campus in December 25AC only to renege on the offer a day later. PM Hale brought suit in January 26AC, but Judge Luther Dearborn ruled in October 26AC that the suit be dismissed since in his view, no binding offer to speak had been made by ISU to PM Hale, and therefore, no contract was breached.

PM Hale issued a statement upon receiving the decision: "I respectfully disagree with the Court's order upholding the dismissal of the case. However, I am pleased that the Court agreed with me on one of the issues and believe that should I decide to appeal the Court's decision to the Illinois Supreme Court, it is quite possible that that body will find in my favor and reverse the Appellate Court's decision. I have not yet decided whether or not to appeal. No matter what, I have made it clear to ISU and other universities that they will not tread upon the liberties of White racists with impunity. This gives me a great amount of satisfaction." RAHOWA!

Sisters Working Together for Creativity!

by Sister Lisa Turner

The World Church of the Creator is unique and stands apart from all other pro-White organizations in existence today because we have not one but two women's chapters, the Women's Frontier and the Sisterhood of the WCOTC. As we know, most pro-White organizations have no formal, organized chapters or structures in place to recruit women or encourage their entry into the racist Cause. Indeed, some groups are openly hostile to the idea of having more women in their ranks or encouraging women in leadership roles or positions. If they have women in their ranks, they don't make much impact beyond their own circles and are unable (or have made a conscious decision) to reach out to the masses of our People and the larger society where White women live, work, and struggle to survive in the middle of the mud cesspool. From time to time, we're asked, "Why does the Church have two women's chapters? Why not just one?" Our reply is: "Why not have two?" The fact is that diversification can be a great advantage if utilized properly. It recognizes that women have different styles, different talents, and different interests within our Church and that it is important to encourage a certain flexibility within the context of overall unity and loyalty to Creativity.

When we examine the mud tactic of spreading out with their tentacles wrapped tightly around every part of society (or the decayed mess that passes for "society"), these mud radicals and agitators aren't bothered by the fact that there are two, three, or one hundred of their ilk working in different capacities and levels. As we've observed, it's common to see endless lists of groups with names like the "Hispanic Women's Council" and "Hispanic Women for Unity" and on and on, ad infinitum. This diversification has served them well and with each new mud weed that springs up, more adherents come to their ranks. In our Church, of course, all chapters are under the central leadership of PM Hale and pledge our allegiance to Creativity, because we as Creators believe that strong leadership is essential to victory. Yet, within that framework and context, it is exciting and inspiring to see the varied voices of our women, each expressing in their own way. Having two chapters insures that there will never again be a lack of a strong women's presence in the Church. I'm sure many Creators at this point cannot imagine not having a women's chapter or chapters in the future. It would be almost unthinkable and unnatural to ever return to a time when there was not a formally recognized women's branch of the Church. This is a powerful testament to how far we have come and what we have accomplished in just a couple of years. Changing thinking is the key!

Another advantage to having two chapters can be seen at those times when JOG targets specific members of our Church for unjust, severe persecution or there is an interruptive concern or problem for an individual member; with two chapters, we have the necessary back-up to carry on. Multiple websites, newsletters, and varied women's propaganda and activism serve us well. This indeed gives us the best of both worlds--central leadership combined with diverse structures. JOG may attempt to cut some of the limbs of our tree, but new branches will quickly sprout to take their place. It is for this reason that the Church has always advocated combining cells with strong leadership to set the tone and guide the way.

Women who are interested in joining our Church formally or being supporters are free to contribute and volunteer their time and efforts to both of our chapters, one chapter alone, or neither, if they so choose. We are sometimes asked, "How much does it cost to join the WF or the Sisterhood?" There are no separate dues or membership fees for either chapter, apart from the yearly dues required of men and women who join the Church formally as members. Donations to further our work and assist in our expansion are always welcome, and are put to good use in a responsible manner. Naturally, it is our goal that all women who are serious about joining with us will eventually participate at some level in our women's outreach activities.

Another important lesson to be learned from having two women's chapters is that we have proven to the Movement at large that women can work harmoniously together, without "power struggles" or ego trips. Ego and self-importance are not why we are here. If anyone, man or woman, wants to get their ego stroked, there are far easier ways to accomplish it in this decadent world than going up against the JOG Beast as it continually howls for our blood and our destruction! The women in our Church who invest their life and precious time and racial devotion to do such things as putting up a website, writing a newsletter, attending public Church meetings in the face of Jew/mud threats and risk to personal safety, creating inspirational poetry and artwork, putting up a hotline, distributing literature, or doing other forms of activism, are truly special people who are fighting for a White World in which not only their children but all White children can live and breathe free.

When it is time for a proud, White woman to make the all-important, life-changing decision about what group she wants to give her allegiance to, the choice is clear: The World Church of the Creator. There is no doubt that the other organizations and entities will increasingly emulate and follow our lead in this area, for they have been awakened to the truth by us that women are necessary and vital components to racial survival! Those who do not heed this call will most certainly fall away like the reactionary "dead wood" they are.

The Women's Frontier and the Sisterhood are jointly working on several projects: exposing and speaking out against the ARA (Anti-Racist Action), publishing a book of inspirational racist poetry which is tentatively entitled, "88 Creations" and establishing a publishing company for women's racist media (which we will give more details about soon). This is in the early stages of development and we are quite excited about the possibilities of our new joint venture. We look forward to combining forces on more projects in the future. The road is a long one, and we are learning new things every day, but we are not without a map to guide us on our journey through this "women's frontier": the Creed of Creativity. Together, the WF and the Sisterhood will be the guides and racial role models to show our White Sisters a Whiter, Brighter world. As Sisters working with Sisters (and Brothers!), we will win this Racial Holy War! RAHOWA!

Actions that Defeat Jewish Control
by Brother William Smith

Our Pontifex Maximus, Matt Hale, has identified the Jewish Occupational Government (J.O.G.) as our number one adversary. Through the illegal operation of this uninvited intruder, the Jews control our society, but we are not without resources in combating it. Below are listed some actions each Creator can take to break JOG's control over his own life.

1) Daily read The Little White Book and meditate on the coming of the Whiter and Brighter World. Each week read Nature's Eternal Religion and The White Man's Bible. Learn as much as you can about Creativity and the actions necessary that will defeat JOG and the Jews. We can still read and study and learn.

2) Associate with fellow Creators. Telephone, write letters, use e-mail, or fax. Visit in person as often as possible PM Hale's meetings. Attend faithfully gatherings of Creators in your own area. Visit other Creators. Always do business with fellow Creators.

3) Show absolute loyalty and strict obedience to all requests and instructions given by PM Hale.

4) Always tithe a tenth of your earnings to the Church. Money is needed to fight the Jewish monster at the highest levels. Make room for this!

5) Spread the word of Creativity. Ask yourself each day, "What have I done today for my Race". Toss literature on driveways, place cards in books at libraries, put up posters, pass out books to those showing interest, telephone strangers, call in radio talk shows or enter chat rooms on the internet, or any other action you see is productive. Get results!

6) Get yourself out of debt as soon as possible. Cancel obligations if necessary. Invest all your money into paying off early any obligation you may have. Those indebted are, in fact, slaves. Pick your smallest bill and pour extra money into it until it is paid off. Then, move onto your second largest bill. Pay it off. Save your largest bill till last and minimize monthly utility bills as much as possible. Do not waste "extra" money on having fun or buying needless items. Sell things you are not using to get cash to pay off all your bills. Focus all your attention on this like a fanatic and do not sleep until it is entirely achieved. Never borrow money!

7) Follow the Church's teaching on Salubrious Living and eat only raw vegetables and fruit. With each bite you are fighting the Jewish food tax on almost all processed food as well as the Jewish meat cartel that controls all meat in this country. Never buy an item that has a kosher "K" or "U". Otherwise, the money you pay will support the Jewish rabbis.

8) Do not work for Jews or for Christian churches. Check to see who is the real owner of the place where you work. Change jobs if necessary or better yet, get into a business of your own. Even if you at first make less, you will gain vast control over your own life.

9) Drop bad associations. Bad associations can spoil a lot of useful habits. Never associate with anyone that is friends with niggers, Jews, or other muds. Test out anyone calling themselves your "friend". This word is a "Trojan Horse" that is used by the manipulators and the lazy to get you to do what they want.

10) Have nothing to do with a bank. Close all bank accounts and seek out a credit union. Use cash or barter with silver coins.

11) Stop watching TV. Replace it with video games or the radio.

12) Always avoid criminal activities. They are not the answer to our Race's problems.

13) Through education, we can learn how to work our way up in society through industrious work and by saving our money. Learn and earn your way to success. Remember, your life is part of the White Race. What you are is what the White Race is. Make the White Race better by improving your own life the very best you can. PM Klassen advised Creators to enter real estate. This is certainly one way to get control over the land.

A Whiter and Brighter world lies ahead of us. Let us do all we can to bring the day of RAHOWA closer and improve our ability to survive, expand and advance the White Race. Lastly, get married and have lots of kids. RAHOWA!

In Memory of Ben Klassen
by Rev. Dan Hassett

He was born in a time of extreme tyranny.
In Communist Russia many years ago.
Where sadistic Jews were in charge of the show.
Tens of millions of our Kinsmen-they inflicted a large toll.

To escape hell, he migrated to the west.
His fortitude and intelligence was put to the test.
He lived in Mexico, Canada and then the U.S..
He worked very hard and became a success.

In America he achieved the American dreams.
He then realized that everything is not as it seems.
He noticed our decadence and continuing decline.
He stood tall above the masses who were very blind.

He learned about the Jews and their aim.
He now knew where to place all the blame.
Our self-destructive course is totally insane.
He wanted to remove us from our shame.

He studied very hard both day and night.
To develop a religion that could win this fight.
And gain control of our destiny and our lives.
So we might again regain our might.

All his studies and experiences planted a seed.
Which manifested itself in the Creativity Religion and Creed.
Throughout history, no one has ever accomplished such a deed.
If we are to survive, its principles we must heed.

He committed all his energy and resources so that Creativity will win.
Now he rests in peace with all of history's great men.
For Creativity is not done
But instead has just begun! RAHOWA!

Racist group growing a year after member's killing spree

Recruitment reportedly is gaining among students, prisoners, women

By Jay Hughes
The Associated Press

PEORIA, Ill. — Before Benjamin Smith's deadly rampage last Fourth of July, there was little known about — and little interest in — the racist church to which he belonged.

Over the past year, however, the World Church of the Creator has found a national platform and has seen its membership increase. Its leader, Matthew Hale, claims to have adherents in most states and says membership in the group based in East Peoria has doubled.

Smith: Shot 11 people and killed two before committing suicide.

Hale, 28, refuses to say how many members, whom he calls "creators," pay dues. But according to one center that monitors hate groups, Hale's organization has added 35 chapters in the past year, and its recruitment programs have gained strength — particularly on college campuses, in prisons, among women and online.

The World Church of the Creator has become a "magnet for young volatile white supremacists," the Chicago suburban Center for New Community said in a new report.

The report was released to mark the anniversary of the two-state rampage by Smith, who shot 11 people and killed two. Ricky Byrdson, 43, a black former basketball coach at Northwestern University, was hit July 2, 1999, while walking with his children in Skokie, Ill. Won Joon Yoon, a 26-year-old college student, was killed two days later outside the Korean United Methodist Church in Bloomington, Ind.

Later that July 4, Smith, 21, committed suicide as police closed in on him on State Highway 37 south of Salem, Ill. Eight months before his rampage, he had been profiled on the World Church of the Creator's Web site as "Creator of the Month" for his efforts to distribute racist literature.

Hale said the growth of his group has had more to do with its philosophy than Smith's rampage, which targeted blacks, Jews and Asians. "More people heard of us, and more people respect us because we have refused to compromise our beliefs in the past year," said Hale, who describes his members as "white racial loyalists."

Hale has kept himself and his group in the public eye, primarily through well-publicized appeals over Illinois' refusal to grant him a law license and lawsuits filed because of the attacks, said Richard Hirschhaut, director of the Midwest branch of the Anti-Defamation League. He estimated that Hale's group had a dedicated membership of about 300, up from about 200 a year ago, though tracking it is difficult because members communicate mostly online.

Many of the organization's members show an almost cult-like dedication to Hale, Hirschhaut said. However, the Center for New Community found that scrutiny of the group after the shooting and Hale's outspokenness have caused some discord. The report also noted that Hale's rhetoric also appears to be taking a more violent tone. After the Supreme Court refused last Monday to hear an appeal of Hale's law license case, he said that in light of the court's failure to hear his arguments, he could no longer encourage his followers to obey the laws of this country.

In an interview after that, however, Hale said he does not advocate violence but can stop not individuals from taking whatever action they deem necessary.

Unauthorized literature inserted in newspaper

MORTON — A few Morton residents got a rude surprise the morning of Independence Day: Racist literature, inserted in the Thrifty Nickel newspaper, had been thrown on their lawns.

Lori Lushina, editor of the Thrifty Nickel, said a woman from Morton called her office to complain about a flier from the East Peoria-based white supremacist group the World Church of the Creator, which had been tucked inside the June 8 issue of the Thrifty Nickel. Lushina said the woman told her a few of her neighbors had also received the racist pamphlets, one of which was tucked in a sampler distributed by the Trading Post newspaper. Dave Simpson, publisher of the Peoria Daily Times, also received a pamphlet tucked inside a June 29 issue of the Thrifty Nickel that was placed in his mailbox in Pekin. Pekin police said this morning that they are unaware of any similar incidents.

Lushina said she is very upset about the fliers and stressed that her newspaper does not support the distribution of racist materials. She thinks the people involved in the distribution of the fliers gathered old issues of the free weekly newspaper from the stands where they are usually kept outside stores and supermarkets. The Thrifty Nickel is not delivered to homes.

Lushina said she is very upset about the fliers and stressed that her newspaper does not support the distribution of racist materials. She thinks the people involved in the distribution of the fliers gathered old issues of the free weekly newspaper from the stands where they are usually kept outside stores and supermarkets. The Thrifty Nickel is not delivered to homes.

Lushina said she will print a message in the next issue not allow inserts and asking anyone who has received an insert to call her office immediately at 693-1151.

The flier was intended to honor Benjamin Smith, a former hate group member and Morton resident who killed himself last year after going on a two-state racially motivated shooting spree. In Skokie, Smith killed Ricky Byrdson, an African-American who had served as Northwestern University's basketball coach. In Bloomington, Ind., he killed Korean student Won-Joon Yoon outside a church. Smith also injured nine others.

The flier claims Smith went on the shooting spree to protest the state of Illinois' denial of a law license to Matthew Hale, the hate group's leader. A press release from Hale faxed to the Times on June 30 indicated that the flier would be distributed on Independence Day.

Lushina called the Morton Police Department, but Police Chief Nick Graff said there is little the police can do to prevent anyone from inserting such materials in newspapers. "It's merely inserting something into the newspaper," Graff said. "I'm not aware of any law that would prohibit that."

Tazewell County State's Attorney Stewart Umholtz agreed that there are no criminal penalties that apply. He said the newspaper might be able to pursue civil remedies, but that would be difficult without knowing who put the fliers in the newspaper.

"I don't believe there's anything they could do," Umholtz said.

Police probe racist fliers

PEKIN — Pekin Police Lt. Ted Miller said whoever was responsible for distributing racist literature to some Pekin neighborhoods Sunday night could face arrest for disorderly conduct.

Police do not know who was responsible for placing fliers, which contained the name and address of Matt Hale's group, the World Church of the Creator, in yards in the Sunset Hills area and in neighborhoods on the north side of Pekin.

The fliers denounce the marriage of WEEK-TV Channel 25 employees Shannon Tebben and Edgar Sandoval because Sandoval is Filipino. Tebben's father is Pekin Mayor Dave Tebben.

"If these people feel that's within their First Amendment rights, we certainly like to see them step forward and take responsibility and let the courts decide," Miller said.

In a press release, Hale said he believes the contents of the flier are protected by the First Amendment.

Miller said the fliers were distributed Sunday night at about 10:30 p.m. in the Sunset Hills area and in neighborhoods on the north side of Pekin. They were inserted in the Thrifty Nickel and Trading Post newspapers, which are ordinarily distributed free at supermarkets.

Lori Lushina, editor of the Peoria edition of the Thrifty Nickel, said the newspaper does not support the World Church of the Creator, and added that she doesn't understand why the group has used her newspaper to distribute their fliers.

"We don't condone this," Lushina said. "I'm very upset. I feel very sorry for the young couple ..."

The Trading Post could not be reached for comment by presstime.

Miller asked that anyone with a description of those involved, or the vehicle they were driving, call the Pekin Police Department at 477-2352.

Pekin Police Chief Tim Gillespie said police will interview Tebben and Sandoval.

Tazewell County State's Attorney Stewart Umholtz said in previous incidents in which racist fliers have been inserted inside newspapers like the Thrifty Nickel, there has been insufficient evidence to constitute criminal activity. But he said the matter is under investigation.

"This matter was brought to our attention and we are investigating to determine what, if any, criminal offenses may have been committed."

Lawyer argues white supremacist Hale ordered Benjamin Smith shooting spree

CHICAGO (AP) — White supremacist Matt Hale ordered one of his followers to go on a deadly shooting spree one year ago, a lawyer for two young men targeted during the rampage argued Thursday.

Hale called the claim "ridiculous" and said he had nothing to do with 21-year-old Benjamin Smith's actions last Fourth of July weekend.

Both sides were in Cook County Circuit Court on Thursday arguing a motion by Hale's attorney, Glenn Greenwald, to dismiss the case. Greenwald said the complaint against Hale was too vague and that Hale's views against minorities are protected by the First Amendment.

But Michael Ian Bender, an attorney for Ephraim Wolfe and Nossen Cohen, said Hale specifically ordered the shootings and should be considered a conspirator.

"There was a meeting of the minds that both Smith and Hale knew what was going to happen," Bender said. Wolfe and Cohen, both Orthodox Jews, were walking to a synagogue on Chicago's North Side on July 2, 1999, when Smith opened fire. Wolfe was hit in the leg. Cohen was not injured.

Their lawsuit argues that Hale, who runs the racist World Church of the Creator in East Peoria, incited Smith to action by calling for a "racial holy war." It also says Hale and Smith agreed that Smith would shoot people "they considered to be 'non-white' and 'inferior.'"

Smith, a former member of Hale's group, targeted blacks, Asians and Jews during his three-day shooting spree in Illinois and Indiana. Two people died and nine others were injured before Smith killed himself July 4 in Southern Illinois.

Hale has not been charged with any crime related to the shootings.

"You can't hold a church or a religion responsible for the acts of its members," Hale said after the hearing.

Judge Joseph Casciato said he would issue an order by next Thursday on the motion to dismiss the case.

In April, the judge dismissed a civil negligence complaint against Smith's parents.

Hale also is named in a separate federal lawsuit filed in April by a Decatur pastor injured during Smith's spree.

World Church continues to preach white power

July 3, 2000

Rev. Matt Hale calls the death of fellow white supremacist Benjamin Smith "a tragedy."

"I cared about him," Hale, 28, said in a phone interview Wednesday. "I care about my people."

Before turning the gun on himself last July, Smith went on a shooting spree targeting minorities. Two people were left dead: former Northwestern University basketball coach Ricky Brydson, an African American, and Korean IU doctoral student Won-Joon Yoon.

Leader of the World Church of the Creator, an Illinois-based white power organization, Hale believes Smith was reacting to what he perceived as the destruction of his First Amendment liberties.

"I knew Ben. He was peaceful. He seemed like an average Joe," Hale said. "Something had to have happened. The last time I saw him he was planning to pass off some (white power) literature, and very soon he was dead."

Hale thinks the "something" that pushed Smith over the edge was the state of Illinois' Character and Fitness Commission's decision not to let Hale practice law, although he had graduated from the Southern Illinois University School of Law and passed the bar exam.

He said Smith also had plans to be a lawyer. "He was inspired by me going to law school," Hale said. "He looked to me for guidance."

Just last week, the U.S. Supreme Court refused to hear Hale's case, upholding the Committee's July 1999 decision.

"They are prohibiting me (from practicing law) because of my beliefs," Hale said. "I burned an Israeli flag 10 years ago. If I am willing to speak as candidly (as I do), they are threatened by a lawyer that does not just go with the flow. It's a message to lawyers to go along with the crowd."

In a press release faxed to the media and Hale supporters Tuesday, Hale wrote, "Indeed, the laws of this land have been enacted by a tyranny out to destroy the very genetic existence of our people, and for that reason, this tyranny deserves to be overthrown."

But the World Church of the Creator's Web site announces the members do not advocate or incite violence.

"We're fighting a defensive war," Hale explained. "Right now it's a war of words, and we'd like it to remain a war of words."

A LEADER IN THE 'RACIAL HOLY WAR'

"I became racially conscious when I was 11 or 12," said Hale, who is a native of Peoria, Ill. "I realized the races were not the same."

Hale said his parents did not take it very seriously that their 12 year old was talking about racial differences, but he also says he was not raised to oppose other races or cultures.

"Certainly my family never believed in interracial marriage," he said. "But I was not taught not to like blacks, not to like Jews."

He joined the World Church of the Creator in 1990.

Today Hale advocates a separation of races and a white pride attitude.

"It's time for people to support us in one way or another," he said. "If someone says, 'I'm proud to be black,' say 'I'm proud to be white.'"

He encourages his supporters to confront the "evil" of interracial coupling by speaking out against it.

The worst case scenario, Hale explained, is extinction of the white race.

"That, indeed, is my biggest fear," he said. "And that white people will not rally soon enough. There's a real danger that we will simply be enslaved. We will have done to us what's being done to white farmers in Zimbabwe."

Hale said many whites support his cause in ideology, but are apathetic in their actions.

"It's very unfortunate and something our founding fathers would be ashamed of," he said.

But he also said interest in his cause is growing as he makes people aware of his proposed solutions to the racial issues.

"We can do this," he suggested. "We can use the money we are spending on the moon, or on missiles, to have a peaceful separation. The problems we have are a result of interracial (mixing). Give them a place to go where they can celebrate their own cultures."

Reverend wanted on bad check warrants

DECATUR — A year after being wounded by white supremacist Benjamin Smith in front of his Decatur home, the Rev. Stephen Anderson is a fugitive from the law.

Anderson is wanted on two warrants for failing to appear in Macon County Court in connection with bad checks he allegedly wrote to several area businesses, said Macon County Sheriff Roger Walker Jr.

The warrants were issued May 8, at about the time Anderson, who had been pastor at Faith Temple Pentecostal Church, left town. Walker said police are also wanting to question Anderson about two other incidents involving deceptive practices.

Walker said authorities believed Anderson was in the Huntsville, Ala., area. Attempts by the Herald & Review to reach Anderson were unsuccessful.

Court documents show that five businesses — Bob Ridings Lincoln-Mercury Jeep Eagle Inc., Soy Capital Bank and Trust Co., CEFUC, Land of Lincoln Credit Union and Greater Chicago Finance Co. — sued Anderson for allegedly writing bad checks, including several from the church's bank account.

In the suit filed by Bob Ridings, Anderson and several church elders allegedly signed a purchase agreement on April 30, 1999, as co-buyers of a 1995 Lincoln Town Car. On May 25, 1999, Anderson allegedly presented a $1,500 check from the church shooting spree began. The check was signed by Anderson, but not by any of the elders who signed the purchase agreement. The court eventually ordered Anderson to pay $1,000 to the car dealer.

Last month, the court ruled that Anderson and the church had to pay $9,100 to CEFUC because of checks that had been bounced.

He added, "Matt Hale has been masterful in manipulating media reports. Hale has been scheduled in which fairly savvy at staging events Greater Chicago Finance Co. will be seeking more than $2,000 from Anderson organizations for failing "to be because of a bad check he as critical as they should be" had written.

Walker said the warrants were issued after Anderson failed to appear for a pair of scheduled court dates involving plaintiffs Land of Lincoln Credit Union and Soy Capital Bank.

James Eubanks, who replaced Anderson as pastor at Faith Temple, said he has had no contact with Anderson since he left town. He said the Sunday marks the anniversary of Benjamin Smith's murder of two people and his wounding of nine in a race-hatred rampage that ended in his suicide.

Smith began shooting his victims just hours after the Rev. Matt Hale, the killer's idol and head of the racist World Church of the Creator, was denied a license to practice law by the Illinois Bar Association.

Last week, the U.S. Supreme Court denied Hale's appeal of the Bar Association's decision. This week, Hale made inflammatory speeches that observers fear may provoke another follower to imitate Smith's spree.

Hale said the Supreme Court decision is a slap in the face to white people everywhere in the world.

"Whatever blood is spilled will be on the hands of those who wronged us," he said of the high court's action. "I can't in good conscience instruct my followers to obey the law of the land."

The Supreme Court's decision, he said, "pushed this nation toward a second American revolution."

Then, associating himself with the Nazi psychopath.

Hale said, "A great man in history, namely Adolf Hitler, said 'Human rights always prevail over government rights.'"

A report published this week by Center for New Community (CNC), an Oak Park-based hate crime watch dog organization, indicates the moment may be ripe for Hale followers to commit violence commemorating Smith's rampage in defiance of what Hale called government rights.

"We believe that this is an organization that is extremely dangerous," said CNC Executive Director David Ostendorf. "Communities should prepare now to deal with the group's activities and to prepare for its violent, racist and anti-Semitic messages and actions."

"Through a barrage of speeches, publications and events, World Church of the Creator leaders equip young recruits with the ideological ammunition to commit further acts of racist mayhem and terror," CNC said.

The Rev. Paul Jakes, pastor of St. Paul Baptist Church, advocates tolerance.

"The message we proclaim as a Christian church is to move past bloodshed," he said. "That's the message we give to Reverend Hale. Moreover, if he's identifying himself as a minister, he has to understand it's about the outpouring of love that Christ teaches rather than Satan's outpouring of hatred."

The CNC report reported the Hale church's activities since Smith's rampage.

"The past year has been busy for Matt Hale and the World Church," it said, adding the church staged 20 rallies, put together two TV shows and a radio program and "appeared on virtually every media outlet in the country."

Since Smith's shootings, CNC said, the World Church of the Creator expanded to 80 chapters from 41, when the church shooting spree began. They include 14 prison chapters.

The research group said 10 hate groups carry on in an organized fashion in Chicago, an increase from 11 from early 1999. CNC researcher Devin Burghart said "We've noticed overall across the Midwest a noticeable increase in members. There are tens of thousands in the region."

He added, "Matt Hale has been masterful in manipulating media reports. Hale has been scheduled in which fairly savvy at staging events Greater Chicago Finance Co. will be seeking more than $2,000 from Anderson organizations for failing "to be because of a bad check he as critical as they should be" had written.

Walker said the warrants were issued after Anderson failed to appear for a pair of scheduled court dates involving plaintiffs Land of Lincoln Credit Union and Soy Capital Bank.

James Eubanks, who replaced Anderson as pastor at Faith Temple, said he has had no contact with Anderson since he left town. He said the

"The only thing I can say is that God is working everything out," Eubanks said. "I believe God can do anything."

Anderson sustained two gunshot wounds on July 3, 1999, when white supremacist Benjamin Smith drove through Decatur during a two-day, two-state shooting spree targeting minorities that left two dead and nearly a dozen others injured.

Last Friday, Anderson was one of four victims who filed a civil lawsuit against the gun makers and dealers associated with the weapon used by Smith during his shooting rampage.

Memorial, fliers get little notice in Decatur

DECATUR — Matt Hale's distribution of a flier memorializing Benjamin Smith turned out to be a quiet event.

Decatur police reported several complaints from people who found the fliers early Tuesday morning, but apparently no one saw or spoke with whomever was distributing them. Fliers were left in parking lots at two north side apartment complexes and Decatur Memorial Hospital.

Hale had announced that he and his supporters would "hit the white areas" with the fliers on Tuesday to observe the anniversary of Smith's death. Smith, a friend of Hale's, went on a shooting spree a year ago in Illinois and Indiana that left two dead and nine injured, all minorities, before taking his own life after a police chase in Southern Illinois.

The fliers, Hale said in a news release, would refute that Smith took his own life. Instead, Hale said Smith "was struck down one year ago by murderous policemen."

The news release also urged white Americans to banish all other races from the United States and reject materialism in order to "restore White rule."

Hate mongers stay hidden

As expected, local members of the racist Creativity Movement have plenty of gall when it comes to dispersing segregationist literature, but turn out to be cowardly when it comes to showing their faces. Last week Sunday invited members of the white supremacist "religion" to schedule an interview with our residents who received the group's recent hateful mass mailing can put names and faces with the 32-page booklets.

Judging from the image from the "Creators' Web site, even recruits can have albino, shiny hair.

But someone identifying himself as "one of the local Creators" called to report he is not interested in making himself known. Not that we were surprised. "We don't trust newspapers. They twist things around a lot," says the unidentified Creativity spokesman. "We do not do interviews, but if we ever do, we'll let you know."

Some residents of Marblehead and Salem discovered the 32-page booklets on their lawns the morning of June 12 and were surprised to discover the booklet contained anti-Semitic and racist material, the very foundation of the Creativity Movement's white supremacist creed. A Peabody post office box indicates a local link, but it seems local Creativity members are hiding behind that box ("Hate — by delivery," North Shore, June 27).

And while the Peabody post office box people stay in hiding, interested locals can read about the movement on the group's Web site (www.creator.org). There they'll find plenty of interviews with the group's leader, one Rev. Matt Hale.

Hale hails from Peoria, Ill., but alas, he too has only a post office box. So if you want to respond to your Creativity junk mail, you'll have to label it "return to sender."

Hale pledges July 4 'memorial'

White supremacist leader plans Decatur activities to remember Benjamin Smith

DECATUR — White supremacist Matt Hale says he and several of his followers will be in Decatur July 4 to memorialize Benjamin Smith, a friend of Hale's who went on a shooting spree targeting minorities last July.

Smith killed two people and injured several others in Illinois and Indiana, including a Decatur pastor, before killing himself while fleeing from police near Salem.

"We will not be having a standard memorial service," said Hale, leader of the East Peoria-based World Church of the Creator. "But we will be passing out literature. That's how Ben would want us to remember him."

Hale said he would arrive in Decatur in the late afternoon or early evening, but didn't indicate exactly when or where he and his followers would gather.

"We want to hit the white areas," Hale said. He said they would not go to the 1200 block of East Sedgwick Street, where Smith fired two bullets that struck the Rev. Stephen Anderson, then pastor of the Faith Temple, near his home on July 3. Anderson has since left Decatur.

In April, Anderson filed a lawsuit against Hale, alleging he and his organization conspired with Smith to commit "genocidal violence" against minorities, depriving them of their constitutional rights.

"In a sense, this is a way to let (Anderson) and others know we don't appreciate it," Hale said. "Our position has been clear that we had no knowledge that Ben Smith was going to engage in violence."

In a press release, Hale compared Smith to George Washington, John Adams and Patrick Henry, describing him as "a modern-day patriot who also fought tyranny with the barrel of a gun."

Jeanelle Norman, president of the local NAACP branch, said if residents are confronted by Hale, they should walk away.

"If he's ignored, then it won't feed into the hatred that he has," Norman said. "If you ignore him, perhaps he'll move on."

Decatur police Cmdr. Richard Ryan, who learned of Hale's intentions Friday afternoon, said police will monitor the situation closely.

"I think you have to be concerned given his most recent notice to the rest of the country that he doesn't feel obligated to abide by our laws," Ryan said.

Ryan was referring to comments made by Hale Monday after the Supreme Court rejected Hale's argument that a state committee that denied him a law license violated his free-speech rights.

Although Hale graduated from Southern Illinois University's law school and passed the bar exam, state bar officials denied him a law license last summer because he had "dedicated his life to inciting racial hatred" and said "he cannot do this as an officer of the court."

Study shows supremacist group gains

Days before the first anniversary of Benjamin Smith's shooting spree through Chicago, Downstate Illinois and Indiana, a local organization that monitors hate crimes says the white supremacist group Smith belonged to is growing.

Calling the East Peoria-based World Church of the Creator a "magnet for young, volatile white supremacists," the non-profit Center for New Community cited statistics that the World Church has expanded from 41 to 76 chapters nationwide. The group is also recruiting violent criminals in Illinois prisons and has created a niche for young women by forming racist offshoot groups called The Sisterhood and Women's Frontier, according to the report.

The Oak Park-based center titled the study, "World Church of the Creator: One Year Later," referring to Smith's shooting rampage that began last July 2 that targeted minorities and left two people dead, including former Northwestern University basketball coach Ricky Byrison. Nine others were injured.

According to the study, the World Church, run by Matthew F. Hale, has been extremely active in the last year. The study cites 28 communities in 11 states that have been hit with "literature drops," 20 different public rallies and 11 active Illinois chapters.

Other Illinois authorities support the center's findings. A spokesman for the Illinois Department of Corrections confirmed that World Church literature has been sent to prison inmates, adding that prison officials have been monitoring the situation.

Joe Roy, who monitors hate groups for the Southern Poverty Law Center in Montgomery, Ala., agreed that Hale's group has grown in the wake of Smith's shooting spree. Its Internet presence also has expanded, Roy said. Hale could not be reached for comment late Tuesday, but he has denied in the past that he supports violence, saying members such as Smith act alone.

Judge: Dismissal of Hale case premature

East Peoria Times-Courier July 19, 27AC

Defense attorney: Evidence will have to come forward soon

By Jeanette Kendall

Times Newspapers

A complaint filed in Cook County Circuit Court last week against Matt Hale of East Peoria will not be dismissed at this time.

That complaint — filed by Chicago attorney Michael Bender on behalf of his clients — alleged that Hale, a well-known white supremacist, was a conspirator in a shooting spree last summer.

Bender said Hale ordered Benjamin Smith, 21, and a former member of Hale's World Church of the Creator, to go on a shooting spree targeting nonwhites.

That spree resulted in the deaths of two and the injury of nine before Smith took his own life.

Bender represents two men, Ephraim Wolfe, 16, and Nossen Cohen, 16, both Orthodox Jews, who were shot at by Smith July 2 in Chicago. Wolfe was shot in the leg while walking with Cohen, who was not injured.

Circuit Court Judge Joseph Casciato issued an e-mail statement to Hale's attorney, Glenn Greenwald in Chicago. In that statement, Casciato said, "While this court is not naive to the fact that further investigation or evidence from past investigation may give rise to further pre-trial motions, it considers a dismissal of the case at this time to be premature."

"Because the plaintiff's lawyer secretly uncovered evidence that he is disclosing, the judge was unable to make decision a now," Greenwald said.

Bender will be required to come forward with evidence to support the accusation against Hale within the next month, Greenwald added.

However, Greenwald said the judge made it clear in his decision that if Bender does not have actual evidence to back up the accusation against Hale, the case will be thrown out and Bender could be sanctioned.

Bender would not comment about any evidence or the case at this time.

"We are pleased with the judge's ruling. We will continue to prepare the case for trial," Bender said.

In response to the judge's ruling, Hale said, "I don't blame him. I can certainly see his point of view. Michael Bender, the plaintiff's attorney, said a lot of things in his oral argument that were not in his written complaint that, I think, persuaded the judge to keep the case going."

"I do believe this is not a loss for us by any stretch," said Hale. "He (the judge) wants to be careful. In the memorandum he issued unless the plaintiff provided clear evidence that I had anything to do with the shootings, he would dismiss the case at that time."

"So I really think in the next couple months, Michael Bender will have to put up or shut up, so to speak," Hale said.

"From my standpoint, I'm totally confident that the judge will find in my favor in the months to come, since I know I am absolutely innocent of any wrongdoing," Hale said.

Hate mail hits Lynnwood homes

By Shannon Sessions

LYNNWOOD — A white supremacist group recently decided to exercise its First Amendment rights and "litter" many Lynnwood yards and driveways.

"This isn't against the law, freedom of speech works both ways even with this type of less-than-desirable points of view," said Lynnwood Police detective Sgt. Steve Bredeson. "As long as they don't post on a public right of way, the worst they could get is littering."

The group, apparently from Federal Way, calls itself The Creativity Movement of the Anti-Christian World Church of the Creator. Unknown persons from the group distributed the literature around the 6800 block of 188th Street in Lynnwood the weekend of Aug. 7 and 8.

Police said they were surprised how much literature there was. Sgt. Bredeson said it isn't common to see much of this type of "hate mail" in Lynnwood and that in the 20 years he has worked here he has never had problems with hate groups.

"Someone's obviously taken a lot of time to put these together. From time to time we might hear a little about this kind of stuff on some cars, but nothing like this," Bredeson said. "We've received some calls about it. Most people just threw it in their garbage."

One of the people who picked up some of the writings is recently retired Terrace View Presbyterian Pastor Dick Gibson.

"Thirty years ago we were working against racism and it is still around," Gibson said. "This is improper for our community and the literature is wrong in its interpretation."

Though the literature says it doesn't do harm and they don't condone violence, Gibson said the literature does cause harm.

"They may say they aren't

Hate mail from a white supremacist group was distributed in Lynnwood last week.

causing any harm, but they are. It tells people it is OK to think this way... and people who are deranged might read this and think it's OK to hurt people like Jews and blacks," Gibson said. "It encourages someone else to do harm."

The recent shootings at a Southern California Jewish community center, in which former area resident Buford Furrow Jr. has been charged, has raised the question of whether these types of groups are responsible for much of the violence against minorities.

Furrow, who had been an Olympia resident and who had spent some time in the unincorporated Snohomish County area near Lynnwood, reportedly threatened to "shoot up" the Alderwood Mall, according to a recent Herald article.

said on its web site that they don't condone violence. "World Church of the Creator neither condones violence, or unlawful activities nor do we promote or incite them," he stated on their Internet site. Hale wrote that they distribute their literature to inform others about what "the government and media have hidden."

"I am Rev. Matt Hale and I am the Director of the Creativity Movement, an organization which is dedicated to the dissemination of truth and the pursuit of justice. I have created this special newspaper, which the Creativity Movement has funded, to provide you with vital information which both the government and the media have gone to great lengths to prevent you from discovering," Hale wrote. "My emphasis is not on changing your mind (though I will of course be happy if I do) but on making it possible for you to change your mind."

In his literature Hale continues to describe what he says the "white race needs to do to stay the supreme race" and includes many racial slurs and cartoons depicting an African American in a savage way. In his writings he also includes many quotes taken out of context from past presidents and other leaders. Hale wrote that they distribute the literature for their own good.

"The bottom line is that we have put this publication before you, without any gain to ourselves, because we care," Hale wrote. "Many who found the literature told police they just threw it in the garbage," said Tracy Dana, spokeswoman for the police department.

Contact Point Information from PM Hale

In order to become a Church contact point, all that is necessary is for you to be a member in good standing, interested in staying in contact with other Creators, and promoting Creativity in your area. It is also recommended that you obtain a post office box, though this is not required. Due to relative ease in becoming a contact point, World Headquarters does not specifically vouch for every contact point listed other than that all listed are indeed addresses of members of the Church. Addresses sometimes change, so members should check each issue for any changes. RAHOWA!
